

Activist Hot List

A Few to Watch For – 2016

Listed below are selected funds with a recent history of US shareholder activism that we expect will continue those activities in connection with the 2017 proxy season. Companies should note that these activists may not clearly identify themselves when contacting the company, and that activists may make investments through affiliated funds under other names. Further, initial calls likely will not be made by the listed key individuals. Of course, any investor can adopt an activist strategy at any time in the future. This list does not purport to be all-inclusive.

Please contact a member of your Latham & Watkins team or email us at Activism@lw.com if you have any concerns about a particular investor in your company.
