

Do I need a Phoenix, AZ Criminal Defense Attorney if I'm facing Charges for Criminal Damages?

By: Jeremy Geigle, Attorney at Law

JacksonWhite, P.C.

If you've been charged with criminal damage anywhere in the East Valley, you could face serious consequences if you are not properly prepared for your defense in court. As a result, it is in your best interest to contact a Phoenix AZ criminal defense attorney who can assess your case in relation to Arizona law and help you understand your legal rights. Facing the judge on your own in court or pleading guilty to a criminal damage charge before talking to a Phoenix AZ criminal defense attorney can put you and your future at risk. Generally speaking, criminal damage can be charged as a misdemeanor or a felony in Arizona, depending on the dollar value of the damage. Furthermore, criminal damage is punishable by a wide range of penalties. Possible punishments include fines, restitution, jail time and even prison time. Since the outcome of a criminal case can impact the rest of a person's life, those charged with criminal damage should recruit a Phoenix AZ criminal defense attorney to help prepare for their defense.
