

Blog Heading:

7 Common Types of Emergency Room Errors in Cleveland

Keyword-Rich Content:

When a doctor's mistake occurs in an emergency room, a malpractice claim may be filed. You should speak to a Cleveland medical malpractice attorney to learn if your injuries are severe enough to warrant pursuing a claim against the doctor.

Although the emergency room is where you go to receive help, it can become a place of harm if errors are made. When this happens, you may have the right to pursue legal action.

Here are 7 common types of errors that can happen in a Cleveland emergency room:

- failure to diagnose a medical condition correctly;
- misdiagnosis of a condition;
- misreading test results;
- failing to run appropriate tests;
- IV mistakes;
- prescribing the wrong type of medication; and
- giving the wrong dosage of medication.

Whether your injuries were caused by a doctor's or other medical professional's mistake in an emergency room, a malpractice claim can address the damages you have suffered.

When you have sustained serious injuries as a result of an emergency room error, you may need to contact a Cleveland medical malpractice attorney. An attorney will carefully evaluate your case to decide if you have a legitimate claim to pursue.

Contacting a Cleveland Medical Malpractice Attorney

The team of Cleveland medical malpractice attorneys at The Becker Law Firm serves residents of the Cleveland and Elyria, Ohio areas when they have been the victims of birth injury, catastrophic injury and wrongful death as the result of medical malpractice. To arrange for a no-cost consultation, home or hospital visit, contact us today – 1-877-863-6219 or 1-440-372-0810.