

David A. Schatz Joins Spencer Fane

January 2, 2014

Spencer Fane Britt & Browne LLP announced today that David Schatz has joined Spencer Fane as a partner in the firm's Kansas City, MO, litigation practice group. Schatz, who specializes in construction disputes and defects, will lead the firm's construction industry group. David also handles matters involving banking and finance, banking litigation, commercial disputes, insurance, surety, employment, contract claims and personal injury.

"David brings great experience across a range of industries, but many of us in Kansas City are particularly pleased by his construction and general litigation credentials, which fit well with the resources we're building in those areas," SFBB Chairman Pat Whalen said. "David will be an excellent addition to a variety of our litigation efforts."

Schatz received his J.D. from the University of Missouri-Columbia School of Law and his B.S., Business Administration from the University of Missouri-Columbia. He was recognized in Missouri & Kansas Super Lawyers for Construction Litigation.
